TUESDAY JUNE 17, 1890.

THE TIMES ON THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

(From the Times of the 22nd ult.)

The interesting letter from our Correspondent at Buenos Ayres contains a comprehensive review of the financial situation in the Argentine Republic, a State in which the people of this country have the most solid reasons for taking a keen interest. If is always difficult to estimate the amount of British investments in foreign lands, but the lowest estimate in this case is £150,000,000, some authorities putting it as much as one-third higher. The smaller figure is quite large enough to cause the fortunes of the Republic to be watched with attention, and its present difficulties to be regarded with some anxiety. Yet, although there are doubtless many individuals who have taken pains to inform themselves concerning Argentine affairs, the public at large have been content with knowledge of a very vague and general kind. From the scanty statistics ordinarily accessible it is difficult to construct anything like a distinct and definite picture of the condition of the country; and in so far as it figures in current literature it has usually been dealt with from some special stand-point. South American Republics appear by common consent to be considered as falling under rules totally different from those that regulate our judgments of European States. Up to a certain point there is no harm in this exceptional treatment, which is justified by the consideration that they possess extensive and sparsely settled territories with immense undeveloped resources. There are limits, however, to the discounting of the future, which is fostered by general belief in the existence of practically unbounded possibilities waiting the touch of European capital to become gorgeous realities. Certain financial precautions demand observance even when we are dealing with the vast wealth of sub-tropical America, and it would seem from our Correspondent's cautious exposition of the situation that these precautions have been allowed too much to drop out of sight. Opinions on the spot appear to be of the most divergent kind. Every one is, indeed, agreed that if sufficient time be given, the resources of the Argentine Republic will prove fully equal to all demands upon them, but even in Buenos Ayres there are evidently many who entertain serious doubts concerning the manner in which the affairs of the country are to be carried on pending the development of prospective wealth.

It is tolerably plain that at the present moment the state has outrun its available resources to an extent which no faith in a remote future can justify. Its nominal indebtedness to external creditors amounts to about thirty-two millions sterling, involving an annual charge of more than two millions and a half. This does not include large liabilities on account of railway guarantees amounting to more than half a million per annum. These are regarded as loans to the different lines, but however confident the Government may be in the excellence of the security, the repayment of the money obviously depends upon that future development which has to bear so many other burdens. Still the total annual charge would not appear overwhelming if it represented the whole indebtedness of the State. But besides a heavy provincial debt, much of which is held abroad, and a national debt held in the country, we have to take into account the steady drain involved in the enormous investments of foreign capital by which the productive industry of the country is carried on. More serious still is the large unacknowledged debt contracted by the Government through the over-issue of paper money. Gold has been driven up to a premium of 215; in other words, a debt of £100 in gold has required as much as £315 in paper for its discharge. Things are not now quite so bad, but the fall of gold to a premium of only one hundred per cent is regarded as an ideal condition of affairs to be attained more or less probably at a more or less distant date. This means that the Government has been spending a great deal more than its revenue, and owes in addition to its regular debt whatever sum is required to redeem the surplus currency and bring paper to par. The realization of golden visions of prospective wealth must largely depend upon the extent to which retrenchment is effected. A country may have all the resources that the most sanguine please to assume, but if the development of these resources is carried on at a disproportionate cost, as it has been hitherto, they cannot avert financial disaster. The cheerful and the gloomy view of Argentine prospects may be argued indefinitely unless we can get some assurance concerning the management of finance. If that is put upon a sound basis, there is not the least reason to doubt that past extravagance can be retrieved. But if each dollar is to go on costing two dollars to get, the end can only be bankruptcy.

Señor Uriburu, the present Minister of Finance, fortunately appears to be fully aware of the necessity for reform. He brings with him an excellent reputation as reorganizer of provincial finances which had fallen into a condition even more deplorable than those of the nation; and his advent to power has of itself restored public confidence to such an extent as to bring about a notable improvement. He has discovered extensive peculation in the Custom-house involving a loss of from ten to fifteen million dollars per annum. There is a magnificence about dishonesty upon this scale which must excite the envy of rogues in the Old World, and suggests the suspicion that office must have been an unusually lucrative affair for the higher Ministers of the Republic. The Customs are the principal source of revenue, but even under honest management are not unlikely for some time to come to show a serious falling-off, owing to reaction from the furious speculation engendered by inflation. This evil, however, will cure itself if Señor Uriburu succeeds in the task he has set himself and obtains loyal support from the President. That exalted functionary has had a warning which he will perhaps lay to heart. Rightly or wrongly, he was credited with the principal share in plunging the country into the acute difficulties it now has to deal with. A demonstration of 15,000 armed men brought about the resignation of his late Ministry, which he saved himself by accepting. He is fortunate in having escaped so easily in a country where revolutions can be brought about by less justifiable and less widespread discontent. Though a truce has been called, it is, as our Correspondent remarks, an armed truce. The President and his new Ministers are on trial, and will have to walk warily if they hope to avert more serious dangers. It is evident that the temper of the people is still very uncertain, and that observers on the spot cherish the hope rather than the belief that the too common solution of assassination and revolution will be averted.

THE LABOR QUESTION.

London, May 14th.

The final report of the select committee of the House of Lords, after two years of labor, is given to the public, dealing for the most part with the Sweating system and incidentally with the question of wages, hours of labor, unsanitary workshops etc. The report tells us nothing that we did not know before, that the condition of the working-classes is appalling, and that it is made worse everyday by the influx of Polish Jews, who are content to work for starvation wages. These Parliamentary Committees are very costly and never lead to any practical results. The Devon Committee which sat upon Irish Land-tenure in 1840 drew up a report which pointed out every evil that afflicted the Irish farmer and the only possible solution of the crisis; yet 40 years were allowed to elapse before Gladstone's Land Act put any of its recommendations into force. The Committee for Improvement of the Dwellings of the London poor handed in some lucid reports 7 years ago, but nothing serious has been attempted in that direction. This reminds me that there is a committee still sitting in Buenos Ayres about the Yellow-fever of 1871, and I suppose before their report is published the commissioners will have passed to another and a better world.

But although legislation hardly ever accompanies or even follows these reports they do one good, by recognizing solemnly that a great evil exists, and that within a certain number of years some remedy must be applied. All reforms in England are slow. It took 28 years to pass Catholic Emancipation, 12 years to free the W. India negroes, 10 years to abolish the iniquitous Corn Laws, and therefore we must not despair if the condition of the working-classes be a matter that works very slowly in the mind of the English people towards a reform. Meantime the Lords' Committee reports on this Sweating question as follows:—

1st.—The rate of wages is utterly inadequate to the necessities of the workers, and disproportionate to the work done.

2nd.—The hours of labor are excessive.

3rd.—Many of the houses in which the work is carried on are of an unsanitary character.

But it is easier for the Lords to elucidate existing evils than to determine a remedy. Parliament can no more dictate what wages shall be paid for making matchboxes or stitching shirts than it can order which way the wind is to blow to-morrow. It can, indeed, restrict the hours of labor in factories: but if a poor woman can only earn 4 pence by working 14 hours in her wretched room, would it not be cruelty to forbid her to earn more than 3 pence by restricting her hours to 10? There is only one direction in which Parliament can do anything, namely, by making the homes and work-shops of the poor healthy.

Instead of compelling paupers to enter the union workhouses, every Municipality should do its best to help them to keep out of such institutions. Build model dwellings at a shilling a week rental for each room, with water-supply, bath house, and all sanitary appliances, and for their support impose a tax on ground-rents, at present exempt from taxation. In London you have on the one side house owners of the West End, like Lords Westminster, Bedford, Portland, Portman, etc., whose properties double in value every thirty years by the industry of the unfortunate tenants. Rents are raised year after year, and the wealth and luxury of Grosvenor Square go on increasing. All this time nothing is done to improve the homes of the poor, to clear out the "slums." The report of the House of Lords carefully avoids any such proposal as mine, and throws dust in the eyes of the public by hinting at the propriety of employers paying higher wages for work done. Wages must always depend on supply and demand as regards the particular kind of labor required. But in the matter of housing the poor on the Peabody system no difficulty exists but want of funds and of good will. The four great landlords of London above named could easily build 100 Peabody blocks, to hold 600,000 persons, and do away with the "slums," which are a disgrace to this opulent city.

Our Mails.

London, May 24th.

The Queen has been pleased to confer the dignity of a peerage of the United Kingdom on Prince Albert Victor of Wales, with the titles of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale and the Earl of Athlone.

In the House of Commons yesterday Sir James Fergusson, questioned by Mr. Howorth, stated that the distress in the Soudan was extreme, consequent mainly on the failure of the crops in successive years. In the neighborhood of Suakin the Egyptian Government were giving liberal supplies to the necessitous, but in regard to the districts in the interior they were entirely beyond our jurisdiction and it was not in the power of the English or Egyptian Government to give any relief. A resolution was adopted placing Tuesdays and Fridays at the disposal of the Government The Customs and Inland Revenue (Budget) Bill was read a third time by 141 votes to 67. The Pleuro-Pneumonia Bill and the Allotments Bill were advanced, and the House being "counted out" at twenty minutes past ten o'clock, adjourned until Monday week.

Four of the Turkish military students who were recently arrested at Constantinople for assaulting several ladies, including the wife and daughter of a Russian official, are still detained at the Russian Embassy. M. de Nelidoff, the Ambassador, declines to hand them over to the Ottoman authorities, on the ground that Turkish justice is illusory. Unpleasant consequences are anticipated.

Some three thousand pupils connected with the Girls' Public Day School Company assembled in the Handel Orchestra of the Crystal Palace to receive from the hands of Princess Louise the prizes they had gained in the recent examinations.

An influential deputation waited on the Lord Mayor seeking his co-operation in the movement for the erection of a public memorial to the late Field-Marshal Lord Strathnairn. The Duke of Grafton read a letter from the Prince of Wales stating that his Royal Highness heartily approved of the proposal. The Lord Mayor readily undertook to start a Mansion House fund, and an executive committee was appointed.

Lord Randolph Churchill, who occupied the chair at a meeting in connection with the proposal to establish, at a cost of £100,000, a polytechnic and recreation ground at Paddington, expressed regret that the City companies had given no support to the scheme, while the wealthy residents in the neighbourhood of Hyde Park had subscribed only £25.

At the Windsor May Meeting Mr. Abington's Freemason won the Crown Welter Handicap, Lord Fenrhyn's Queen of the Fairies the Park Plate, Mr. H. Milner's Gavotte the May Plate, and Mr. T. Jennings, jun.'s, Dare Devil the Stand Plate.

Mr. Benjamin Button, dealer in works of art, sued the Bank of England in the Queen's Bench Division to recover damages sustained by him in consequence of the defendants having dishonoured his cheques. The jury found for the plaintiff, and awarded him the sum of £120.

In the case of Mr. Arthur Newton, solicitor, who had previously been sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment for conspiring to obstruct the course of justice, Mr. Justice Cave declined to accede to an application that the accused should be treated as a first-class misdemanant.

There was renewed buoyancy in the Stock Markets, and English, American, Canadian, and Mexican lines improved. Foreign Government bonds, after being dull, partially recovered. Copper shares advanced. Consols rose 1/8 per cent. for the account.

ARGENTINE LAND AND INVESTMENT.

LARGE PROSPECTIVE PROFITS ANTICIPATED FROM PURCHASES AND SALES.

The third ordinary general meeting of the Argentine Land and Investment Company, Limited, was held yesterday at Winchester House, Mr. Lawrence Heyworth presiding.

The Secretary (Mr. Henry F. Thompson) having read the notice convening the meeting,

The Chairman said: I beg to move the adoption of the report of the directors and the statement of the accounts for the year ending December 31, 1889. The year under consideration has but little resemblance in history to any of those that have been passed through during the existence of the Central Argentine Land Company, from which company the present company has been formed. As might have been anticipated, the new company has not passed through its first twelve months of life without encountering obstacles and difficulties, inseparable from the changes that had to be made in a company located in South America. It was with a view to dispelling these difficulties and to reorganize the administration in the Argentine republic that your directors instructed me to proceed there in April last year. The sales of land during the best and greater portion of last year were stopped by the liquidation of the old Central Argentine Land Company, and I found on arrival at Rosario the business of the company still paralysed. Some additional time also elapsed before the necessary formal legal requirements of the Argentine Government could be complied with, including the reorganization of the staff and the appointment of a general manager. All this business was not completed until the best of the year had passed; consequently the sales during the year 1889 may correctly be said to show the result of only four months' business, and even during this limited period of time this department of the company's business would certainly have shown much better results had not the unexpected and sudden rise in the value of gold set in contemporaneously with the reopening of the sales department of your lands. During my visit I took advantage of the opportunity of seeing for myself many of the Company's lands, including the camp, timber and town sites. From inquiries made on the spot, I satisfied myself that many of these lands were in great request, and that, too, at higher prices than had so far been received; but at the time of which I am speaking the new company was not in a position to grant titles or to offer land for sale. It was not easy to find a gentleman possessing an extensive knowledge of the country, a familiarity with the language, and also the rare personal qualities so necessary to be able to satisfactorily fill the responsible post of general manager of a company such as yours, but, in selecting Mr. Robinson, I believe we have been fortunate in securing the right man, and that we have placed the management and administration of your affairs in South America in able and prudent hands.

The loan business of the company has commanded the attention of your directors and manager, but it has been impossible to make a start during last year. The directors believe this to be a most important branch of the company's business, and that it may become an important factor in the increasing prosperity of this company. The shareholders have by circular been all invited to subscribe to a four per cent debenture stock. The directors, however, cannot but express their disappointment at the small response to their invitation, due, no doubt, to several causes, but probably mainly from the general scare occasioned by the depreciation of the paper currency in the Argentine Republic. These rapid changes of currency values occasion temporary want of confidence in all Argentine securities, although really they can exert but little actual depreciation in land investments. Before dismissing this subject of the issue of our debentures, I would ask your attention to the large securities they seem to me to possess, as I feel sure this cannot have been realised, and certainly not appreciated, by intending investors. The total amount of debentures that has been issued is equal to the share capital of the preference issued. At present, that stands at, say, in round figures, £850,000. Now, supposing the whole of these debentures were issued, what would be their security, as at present shown by the accounts before us? As it is intended to loan out the proceeds from these debentures in lands and houses, with margins of at least 50 per cent, the value of the properties upon which the money for the debentures would be loaned would amount in the aggregate to, say, £1,700,000. The lands, the property of the company, are valued in the report at £500,000; the new purchases have cost £140,774; the uncalled capital on the 104,249 ordinary shares amounts to £369,840, a grand total of £2,710,614. There has then to be deducted for sales of debentures £850,000, leaving the result at £1,860,614. This leaves you with a margin, without taking into account cash balances or instalments due upon sales already made, of over £1,800,000. I do not know of any company investing abroad being able to show anything like the statement I have placed before you, especially when the nature of the investment is also considered, viz., that of real estate in a country not as yet one quarter filled up or developed. An increasing value is being given year by year to all its agricultural lands by a most liberal—I should say often most reckless—expenditure of English money in the construction of new lines of railway, going everywhere—and, one might add, sometimes nowhere—throughout the length and breadth of the Argentine Republic. And, although these lavish expenditures of money in some cases may bring no returns to those who have found it, they cannot ail in all cases to raise the value of the land in the country: in the first instances by pouring money into the country, by encouraging immigration, by rendering the products of the soil marketable, and by making it possible for a large immigrant population to settle upon land and live in comfort in districts hitherto impossible. I think you will now see that the debentures of this company offer most ample security, and I hope that the shareholders will assist, as far as they can, in placing the debenture capital. I shall be pleased to answer any questions as to the accounts, and I shall not now deal with them beyond asking you to correct a slight clerical error that has been made in one of the items in the revenue account—viz, that entered as "Chairman's visit to Rosario, £985." That should have been £785. The sum was made up as follows:—Honorarium voted by the board, £525; expenses, travelling, &c., £260. The £200 that has been by error included in the £985 was a sum of £200 voted to the accountant for special services in Rosario during his visit to South America.

Mr. Walter Robinson seconded the adoption of the report.

In reply to the various questions and criticisms.

The Chairman said, in reference to the lands called Punta Chica, those were very valuably-situated properties. Before the railway was finished, and before the station was completed, it would be suicidal to try and force them on the market. They were purchased with the idea that when the railway was finished they would become marketable, and, as they would be sold to people living on the spot, the remaining portion of the land would increase in value. They had an instance of that in Rosario a few years ago, where they bought a property which was said to be extremely dear at £1250 an acre. Within two years they sold it at about £5000 an acre. With reference to the strictures made upon the voting to him an amount for going abroad, he could only tell them that if they did not choose to pay for his services what he considered they were worth, he could not afford to give those services. He certainly should not work for nothing, and he found as a rule that those people who worked for nothing were worthless. The five hundred guineas which had been voted to Mr. Ogilvie on a previous occasion were spontaneously given by the shareholders. As to the directors' fees, they did all they could to protect the company and make the most of the property. They spared no time and attention on behalf of the company, and there were men of very considerable position and ability on the board, and whoever made a complaint made it without reason. As to the debentures, of course, they could not expect unanimity with regard to the terms on which they were issued. The board thought it would be best to issue a four per cent. stock, so that when it became a favourite investment they could issue it at par. He thought that the security offered was such as they rarely found in a London company. It was not proposed to make another call, as the shares were issued on the understanding that only 10s. a share was to be called up. The Chubut lands must wait for development if they were to make anything out of them.

Mr. A. Thompson, who had previously made some remarks on the subject, moved: "That under the circumstances that no dividend is payable on the ordinary shares, the chairman be requested to reduce his remuneration for his visit to Rosario to £260, the amount of his expenses out of pocket."

Mr. Norris seconded this proposition, which, on a vote being taken, was declared to be negatived.

The original motion for the adoption of the report was then agreed to, with two dissentients, and a dividend of 2½ per cent, making 5 per cent for the year, was declared.

Messrs. H. A. Brassey and Albert H. Petre were re-elected directors, and a vote of thanks to the chairman and the board concluded the proceedings.

THE CREDIT FONCIER.

ALLEGED IRREGULARITIES.

Paris, May 8th.

The financial event of the day is the resignation of M. Leveque, who for twelve years has been Deputy-Governor of the Credit Foncier. M. Leveque has been blamed by the Minister of Finance for denouncing an administration of which he was a member, and especially M. Albert Christophle, the Governor. M. Leveque's resignation has been accepted, and M. Christophle has replied to the charges made against himself and a number of his colleagues. In consequence of all this, Credit Foncier shares fell 10 francs today. M. Leveque believed, or pretended to believe, that an article which appeared in the Matin had either M. Christophle for its author or was inspired by him. He found in this an excuse for resigning, and stated openly why he did so. If things are really as he says, the wonder is how he could have remained so long Deputy-Governor of the bank. According to M. Leveque, M. Christophle wasted money on the Press, and kept no account of the precise manner in which he spent it. Contrary to the statutes of the bank none of the money was voted by the Board of Management, nor was any account given to that Board of the working expenses nor a balance sheet furnished at the end of each year. The committees of the bank used to meet weekly to dispose of demands for loans on mortgage, and on Communal lands. Five of these committees are now idle, and one meets once a month only. The board of management, says M. Leveque, is kept in the dark as to the investments of the capital of the bank. It did not know, for instance, until M. Bex, the stockbroker, failed, that 1,800,000fr. had been lent him for Bourse operations. Hundreds of millions of francs appear to have been lent without reference to the statutes. M. Christophle denies nearly all the charges. As to the Bex affair, why did not M. Leveque, who was present at the Board meeting at which it was inquired into, rise and protest against what had been done towards helping M. Bex to operate? So far from the Credit Foncier being weakened, as M. Leveque would make believe, M. Christophle declares it as prosperous as ever. The Council of Management have chosen to repudiate M. Leveque's charges, and have passed a vote of confidence in M. Christophle.

The Credit Foncier was the subject of a rather confused debate to-day in the Chamber. M. Rouvier, in reply to an interpellation made by M. Laur, a Boulangist deputy, said all he had to say was that the Board of Directors having expressed confidence in M. Christophle, he thought himself bound to accept M. Leveque's resignation. The latter succeeded the Minister of Finance in the tribune. He was pale from agitation, and his voice was tremulous with anger. M. Leveque repeated in substance the charges he had made in the Press. The Board of management of the Credit Foncier, he said, remained in the dark, moved in the dark, and became lost in the personality of M. Christophle. When M. Leveque became aware that things were being done in violation of the statutes, he went to M. Rouvier, who seemed to agree with what he said as to the gravity of these irregularities, but who nevertheless soon after wrote to assure M. Christophle that he enjoyed the confidence of the Government. M. Leveque then went into the subject of the Secret Service Fund which was formed, to work the Press. This fund was taken from the reserve capital. Had it been taken from the profits there could not possibly have been a dividend of 63 francs per share.

M. Christophle repeated the explanation he sent to M. Rouvier. He defied Mr. Leveque to say what operations he had entered into unknown to the Board of Management. It was not true that he (Christophle) gambled on the Bourse with Credit Foncier money. If the Chamber wanted more light on the subject, he would repeat a request already made to M. Rouvier, to send a financial inspector to make a search into the affairs of the bank. M. Millerand proposed an order of the day regretting that M. Rouvier did not inquire into the irregularities denounced by M. Leveque. M. Rouvier opposed the inquiry just demanded. The agents of the Government were competent for the work. When they had made their report the Government would be able to form a judgment.

Railway Items.

A singular accident happened to a Southern Railway engine on Sunday morning. The locomotive escaped from Glew and ran into the Sola Works, smashing 4 engines, killing the driver and severely injuring the fireman. This was a most extraordinary accident. It appears the driver could not stop the engine. A guard in a brake-van attached to the locomotive saved his life by jumping out.

Dr. U. Frias has petitioned the Executive for official recognition as a member of the local Board of the Villa Maria to Rufino Railway and of the Bahia Blanca North Western, by virtue of his appointment by the London Board, in conjunction with Sres E. Madero and A. Alcorta.

The National Railway Board has received notice that the branch of the Entre-Rios Railway from Nogoya to Victoria is open to the public.

The estimates given by Don A. Rous, as agent for the Belgian firm of J. Paris, to supply the metal part of the bridge over the Rio Grande at Jujuy at 445 francs per ton, delivered in Rosario, has been accepted.

The mails yesterday brought such a batch of railway news that it will take us at least a week to publish all the items of interest. We note that at the meeting of the Ensenada Railway, Mr. J. Batten spoke as follows of the late Mr. Sam. Abbott:—

"I come before you, gentlemen, this day with a heavy heart, not on account of anything we have done, but on account of the sad news which has just been telegraphed from the other side to the Southern Company, who have lost their manager, Mr. Abbott. A more unfortunate occurrence, or anything more calculated to hurt Argentine work in that country I do not know. Mr Parish, the chairman of the Southern Company, described Mr Abbot the other day as being a head and shoulders above all the other managers in the Argentine Republic. I could not endorse all those words, because I believe we have in the Argentine Republic managers as energetic and as useful in their sphere as Mr. Abbot was; but now that he is dead, no words that I can use can express one half of what I thought of his value to the Southern Railway. All that has been done between this company and the Southern, all the arrangements that have been made have been owing to his wise foresight. When I visited him at Buenos Aires and spent hours with him, I found his great ambition was to roll together the railways of the Argentine Republic, to stop all the strife and enmity which certain people were sowing, to bring us together as one great federated undertaking, and to make the Ensenada and the Southern Railway proprietors like brothers working together for a common end—the prosperity of the shareholders in England, and the prosperity of the Argentine Republic. Having recently, to his satisfaction, brought about the working together of the Southern and Ensenada, having districted the Ensenada and the Southern, and having made it almost impossible for anyone else to come in and stir up enmity between us, he has gone to his rest, just when another great federation was about to take place, and when what we have been waiting for for years was completed. He has passed away just when the Ensenada, and the Central, and everyone else were going to do him great honour. (Hear, hear.) I am afraid the Southern Company have lost in him a valuable manager, and will find a great difficulty in replacing so great a manager as Mr. Abbot. (Hear, hear.) And I am sure we shall suffer in having lost so good a friend. (Hear, hear)

The Central Agentine Railway Company's report for the second half of 1889 has been issued, and the figures are dealt with by a correspondent in our present issue. The directors recommend a dividend of 5 per cent, making, with the interim distribution at the same rate, 10 per cent per annum. Gross receipts, £941,722 1s 7d; reduced by working expenses £473,278 13s 4d, and cost of relaying with steel rails £36,871 6s 7d, to £431,572 1s 8d, brought down by depreciation of currency balances (£54,339 10s 4d) to £377,232 11s 4d. Train miles run 1,319,540 on 267 in 1889, against 799,069 on 247 miles in 1888. The directors observe:—

"The continued and serious depreciation of paper money in the Argentine Republic during the year 1889 has made it impossible to keep the passenger and freight charges at rates that are at all equivalent to those of preceding years. Hence a large number of passengers and a much larger aggregate tonnage of goods have been carried over the railways at considerably reduced rates."

An extraordinary general meeting of the Buenos Ayres and Ensenada Port Railway Company was held on the 2nd May at Winchester House, Old Broad-street. Mr J W Batten, who presided, said that a little more than a fortnight ago, at the ordinary meeting of the company, he felt it to be his duty, knowing that they were on the eve of an agreement for the purchase or leasing of the Western Railway, to advise the shareholdrs that a combination had been formed by which this and other companies were to become possessors of a large portion of the Western Railway, the other portion to remain in the hands of that company. Events travelled fast in the Argentine Republic, and that which he contemplated would take place in three or four months had come to pass in a fortnight. He felt sure that the purposed agreement would be greatly to the advantage of all the companies concerned, as they could work together as one united family for the benefit of the Argentine Republic. He concluded by moving resolutions to the effect that the board be authorised to take on lease from any company the following lines in the province of Buenos Ayres, now existing, or hereafter to be constructed, at such rent, and either in perpetuity, or for any fixed period, as the directors might think fit—the section between Ferrari and Toloss of the line of the Western Railway of Buenos Ayres, and any other section lying to the east of the Buenos Ayres Great Southern Railway's line from the city of Buenos Ayres to the town of Mar del Plata. The resolutions were carried.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Fog, mud, cold, damp, dirt and the never-ending loan played prominent parts in yesterday's orchestra. On Sunday Jupiter Plevius held the fort, and knocked racing, ball, football, amusement in general and everything else on the head, and people went to bed early.

In our leading column will be found an article from the Times on the Argentine Republic. We reserve for another issue the remarks of our own London correspondent on the letter to the Times from this city which gave rise to its article.

We remind our sporting friends that the entries for the Hurlingham Pony Races to come off on the glorious Ninth of July will close on the 20th inst. at noon.

M. de Glaser, the popular manager of the Coquelin Company, has arrived back from Rosario. He is quite enthused with the warm reception of the gallant Rosarinos, who turned out bag and baggage to welcome the company. The four nights in Rosario were four triumphs for M. Coquelin and Mme. Judic. M. de Glaser is again at his familiar post in the Politeama.

We sincerely regret to hear of the dangerous illness of Dr. Kehoe. Doctors Murphy, Green and Gannon are in daily attendance on him. We hope for his speedy recovery.

The Grand Prix of Paris was won on Sunday by Baron Schickler's Fitz-Roya by Atlantic out of Perplexite; another Fitz, Fitz Hampton by Hampton was second and Oddfellow by Barcaldine out of Geheimniss third. Fitzhampton could only run sixth in the Grand Prix of Rome this year, whilst Fitz Roya's and Oddfellow's performances in 1889 were moderate in the extreme. The best 3 yr. olds appear to have been omitted from the entry and it is probable that the form in this race was poor indeed.

The Newmarket Stakes of £10,000, run on May 21, was won by the Duke of Portland's Memoir by a neck from the Duke of Westminster's Blue Green, the favourite, Le Nord, being third.

Novelty succeeds novelty at the San Martin Theatre, and the public are astonished no less at the zeal of the management than at the care and completeness with which all their operettas are given. "La Fiesta de Piedigrotta" produced on Saturday, whilst not remarkable from a musical point of view, has a very amusing story replete with humorous incidents which have full justice done to them, more especially by F. Gargano and D. Pinelli, the latter a young actor with an incisive style and a good voice. We have repeatedly had occasion to praise Gargano's different impersonations, and the more we see him the more we are impressed by his genuine comic art. The Tarantella danced at the end of the third act was enthusiastically encored.

All subscribers and readers expecting newspapers from home should call at our office this week, as our pigeon-holes are direfully overcrowded. At the end of the week we intend, in accordance with our usual custom, to despatch all unclaimed papers to the Irish Colony in Naposta.

Madame Judic took the Politeama by storm on Saturday in her inimitable rendering of La Femme à Papa. The chansonnettes were unusually sparkling and the whole theatre was in roars of laughter. Madame Judic has a beautiful voice and seems thoroughly at home in the chansonnette. The acting of the piece was perfect. Monsieur Coquelin does not play in this piece, but his son, as the Prince, gave a most excellent impersonation. Of course, Madame Judic had the lion's share of the applause and the extreme difficulty of the role brought out all her qualities as an actress, while her rendering of the songs, stamps her as a perfect artiste. The public has grown quite enthusiastic with her chansonnettes, which are a treat and generally prove a draw. We remarked with pleasure the presence of many leading Englishmen on Saturday night. To-night Judic will give her celebrated creation of the Comtesse Corniska in "Niniche," for the first time in Buenos Aires.

Our newly fledged republican neighbors in Brazil are not so wise as the world used to consider them when Imperialists. Instead of taking a solemn warning from the wretched mess we have got ourselves into here, they have plunged headlong into a sea of millions more shinplasters, and are now going in, or, rather, have gone in by a short decree for something suspiciously akin to the Cedula here. Republicanism, all the world over, seems to be synonymous with bad financing. The two big boys in this class, France and the United States, are no exception to the rule. Jonathan's silver legislation will inflate him into a "pretty tight place" before long.

We beg to thank the courteous purser of the R.M.S. Magdalena for the large supply of late English papers he kindly sent us yesterday.

The War Minister has ordered the new cruiser building in England to be called "25 de Mayo" instead of Necochea, as at first intended, as the President of the Republic thinks that the name of a General in the army is not appropriate for a warship. We do remember having seen, in the good old days of England's "wooden" walls, the superb three-decker "Duke of Wellington," 120 guns, and none of her hideous iron successors present such a grand sight when moving on the waters like a thing of life. Dates, however glorious, as names of ships, streets, parks etc. sound very odd to all ears except those of Spanish race.

We beg to thank Messrs. Mackern and McClean, and Messrs. Mackern and Shine (Plaza Constitucion) for their kind supplies of late English papers.

A sergeant in Muhlheim, who is blessed with eleven sons, has three Emperors as godfathers in his family. Whenever a seventh son is born the Emperor of Germany is always godfather to him, so Wilhelm I. was to the seventh son of the sergeant in Muhlheim. Frederic III. was godfather to the tenth son, and Wilhelm II. to the eleventh son who was born some months ago.

A subscriber who got a rattling cropper in the railway station at La Plata the other day is considerate enough to beg us to warn our friends to look before them, or rather keep their eyes fixed on the ground when in said station, as it is usually strewn with more orange and banana peels than in all the markets in town put together.

Advices from venerable Rosario say that the ravages of the crisis are now plainly seen in the decreased number of carts in the streets and the evident decline of business in all quarters. The Reporter says that ten "troperos" have had to sell their carts, as their occupation is gone.

Mr. Valdemar Braestrup, the popular Danish Vice Consul in this city, leaves today for a six months trip to Europe. We wish him a very pleasant vacation.

The Telegrafo Maritimo says that sudden wealth and subsequent poverty are the cause of the well-known Italian engineer Signor Tossi going out of his mind. He came to the country poor, made a fortune suddenly by speculation, lost it in the same way, and went hopelessly mad. It is a sad lesson for those who consider money the only thing worth living for.

Britannia still rules the waves. There was a race from Rio between the crack Messageries French steamer the Orenoque and the R. M. S. Magdalena. The French man sailed some hours before the Magdalena, but arrived at Montevideo fourteen hours after her.

The "nonna" (grandmother) has appeared in Montevideo. A child died of it there on Saturday, after a prolonged lethargy.

Ball-playing circles have put crape on their hats. The famous Manco is going to Valparaiso next season. In the window of Messrs. Mackern & McLean photographs of the team going to the West Coast can be seen.

The Almanach de Gotha is over a century and a quarter old. When it was first issued, among its collection of sovereignties written up, there were only three republics, Switzerland, San Marino and Andorra, while to-day, out of its total of fifty-eight states mentioned, twenty-six are republics.

The recent marriage of "Tottie," the Queenstown barmaid, to Mr. Dupont, the Maryland millionaire, has turned the heads of all the barmaids in the Emerald Isle. Every American tourist who visits Ireland is now taken for a Business at the second hour was most important, both in gold and stocks, and everybody marvelled at the tremendous activity in Cedulas, millions being taken up every day for foreign account, which being so much gold for the market, explains why gold is so weak, although the loan is not yet done. As to the premium, at one moment it was down to 126 per cent, but left off at 131 per cent sellers, and for the end of the month 132 per cent, nothing done for July. National Bank shares continued to advance, owing to the heavy purchasers in the market. Catalinas, however, were a trifle weaker, as also Constructors.

According to latest cable from the European markets Argentine produce and stocks maintain their quotations and shew a rising tendency, showing that our credit abroad is still at a satisfactory level. In London the Sterling Bonds improved 1 o/o closing firm at 102½ in Berlin Argentine 4½ o/o improved 1 o/o to 80 o/o and the National 7 o/o cedulas in Antwerp ½ o/o closing at 41. The Leipzig, Antwerp and Liverpool hide markets are dull, though prices are maintained.

According to balance sheet of Provincial Bank for month of May just out the active and passive figure at 237,456,227 m/n with $37,354,745 gold, the balance in favor of the bank being 37,354,745 dollars gold. The bank's profits in 1888 were $2,816,297 and in 1889 3,956,861, giving a total of 6,773,158 m/n.

All the difficulties about sale and handing over of the Provincial railway are now at an end, and the line will be immediately taken over by the representative of the purchasers. Two arbitrators were named on Saturday to resolve whether the delivery should be effected by sections or in bulk, the latter being the form proposed by the Government.

Dr. Cigorraja, Commercial judge, conceded on Saturday a moratoria for one year to a leading firm in this market whose liabilities are set down at 600,000 dollars. Mr. Duca, the druggist in Calle Maipu, who was declared bankrupt, has arranged with his creditors.

Our London correspondent says that the correspondence in the Times from Buenos Aires, to which we have already made allusion, had not the effect of strengthening Argentine securities; on the contrary, they fell, and he believes, in sympathy with Brazilians through a mistaken geographical impression that the Porto Alegre disturbances affected Buenos Aires.

The sale is reported in Barracas al Sud of a lot of land embracing 1077 square metres for 10,000 dols.

The sale of Municipal lands in Mercedes is fixed for the 20th July in the hall of the Municipality.

Rosario advices announce the disappearance of Messrs. Blanco and Terrero, who owned a saddlery establishment in Calle Mendoza. The clerk kept the establishment open for a fortnight without hearing anything from his masters, and then informed the Judge.

We have received the following from Mr. F. Thompson Groom, purser of the R.M.S. Magdalena:—

"s.s. Magdalena, Montevideo,
"June 14, 1890.

"To the Editor of the STANDARD,—

"Sir,—This ship arrived at Montevideo at 3.15 p.m. to-day, bringing 7 first, 14 second and 9 third-class passengers, and 736 packages of cargo—about 75 tons.

For yours there are 89 first, 22 second and 42 third class passengers, 1424 packages of cargo—say 350 tons, 69 parcels, 15 cases of stationery for the Minister of Hacienda value £3485, 1 case of jewellery to order value £175, 1 case of printed forms for the London and River Plate Bank, Limited, value £2000, 1 package of gold for Climaco dos Reis value £15.

"Amongst the passengers landing here is H.E. Don Enrique Moreno, Argentine Minister to Rio and this, and for Buenos Aires Mr. J. F. Pearson, wife and family; also Captain G. Langley, R.N., Naval attaché, and Sr. Don V. de la Plaza.

"The following are the dates of sailing from the various ports touched at during passage:—

Southampton.....	May 22
Vigo	" 24
Lisbon	" 26
St. Vincent	" 31
Pernambuco	June 5
Bahia	" 7
Rio de Janeiro	" 11

"During the voyage from Southampton until Rio was reached, fine weather was experienced with moderate trades, thence (11th inst.) to the night of the 13th moderate S.W. gale with high sea.

"The Magdalena landed at Rio 527 passengers, 75 first, 20 second and 432 third-class.

At Bahia the medical officer appointed by the Convention entered into by the respective Governments of Brazil, Uruguay and Argentine, Sr. Machado, came on board, and duly inspected the ship and performed very carefully the offices required by the Convention, and has expressed his entire satisfaction with the sanitary condition and good state and cleanliness of the ship.

"Should the Magdalena be released from quarantine, she will proceed for yours at midnight.

"I remain, sir,
"Your obedient servant,
"S. THOMPSON GROOM, Purser.

"P.S.—Accompanying this I send you a few late papers.

"Owing to the lateness of the official visit, the papers could not be sent up by the river boat."

A "subscriber" from San Nicolas sends us the following advices:—"The German barque "Elizabeth Ahrens" left this port bound for Rio de Janeiro with a full cargo of hay in compressed bales, belonging to Messrs. Taylor and Lett. Things are looking very bad up here, as far as stock is concerned, camps bad, very severe frosts, e c. The chacareros are busy shelling maize, ploughing, etc.; the weather could not be better for them."

We take the following items from the River Plate Times:—

The hull of the wrecked Norwegian bk. La Plata has been sold at auction for $100, and the cargo in her for $200. Purchasers A. Ranzatud.

The estancia of Mr. Thomas Bell, in the section of Martin Chico, on the banks of the Uruguay, is to be devoted to colonisation. Mr. George Bruce, formerly Majordomo of the "Campana" estancia in Colonia, is charged with superintending the contracts.

Dr. Alberto Garcia Lagos has been appointed President of the Banco Constructor Oriental.

Two Cerro saladeros have sold 1000 salted cow hides each at 45 reals heavy on board.

Garcia and Co. of San Jose have sold to Sr. Lazaro Rodriguez some 200 squares of land at Pavon at $38 the square.

Comendador Luis Camuyrano, factor of River Plate maize and alfalfa for the Rio Janeiro tramway Company, left for that capital in the "Britannia" yesterday.

The watchmaker's shop "La Marina" in calle Yacaro has been declared bankrupt and the doors have been sealed. The proprietor has levanted.

El Pais of Montevideo says:—The determination that a number of stock breeders have taken to make, on their own account and risk, experiments of the exportation of live stock to Barcelona, Liverpool and London deserves the support and praise of all who, putting routine aside, seek every means for the progress and development of stock raising and agriculture. Meetings have been held in various country districts where stock raising is carried on, and it has been decided by a number of progressive and pushing farmers to embark, on their own account, one thousand cattle on foot, and an equal number of sheep. The committee appointed to arrange the details will arrive in Montevideo in a few days. These stock farmers already count on the protection of Government, which will impose no difficulties in the way of carrying out their praiseworthy undertaking.

The Engineers' Department has delivered the dredging plant necessary for the Riachuelo Works.

The "Remolcadora" Company has petitioned the Government to approve the alterations made in its statutes.

The Customs House received 8200 dollars to-day.

The Finance Minister has to-day fixed 230 as the official quotation for the collection of duties in gold.

The Finance Minister is steadily occupying himself with the preparation of several financial projects to be shortly brought before Congress.

£13,000 has been ordered to be paid to Messrs. Bradbury, Wilkinson and Co. for the engraving and printing of notes for the guaranteed Banks.

A correspondent writes to us as follows but we beg to join issue in the expediency of launching land bonds:—

"Tired of the never-ending loan rumours, many of our merchants and brokers are beginning to think that perhaps we are better without it, especially if Government is able to develop promptly the idea of the land bonds, which, far from being Cedulas (as many at first supposed), are nothing more or less than the favourite "pacto retro-venta" system applied to wealthy debtors of the Banco Nacional. If the owner of one hundred leagues of land or central city properties is bankrupt, then there is no wealth in the world. Yet these are the poorest men to-day, without any fault of their own, and to force on them a ruinous liquidation would be monstrously unfair. How then, unless in the way suggested by Minister Garcia, is the bank—the backbone of the country—to recover its outstandings and by strengthening its own reserves to help the entire market. Loan or no loan, the proposed plan will be carried out, even though the London bankers were to buy up all the shares, as would seem to be their plan, to judge by recent operations. We claim a fair hearing for Sr. Don Juan Agustin Garcia's "land bond" project."

The Hawkhurst arrived yesterday with 3000 tons of cargo.

The following figures (taken from Mr. J. J. Smith's book "Monedas Estranjera") shew the value of gold coins at to-day's premium of 130 o/o:—

Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine Company, limited.
This company is prepared to supply the Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machines, with their accessories, in any quantities. They are now coming into general use in Australia, where, during the past season upwards of 7,000,000 of sheep have been shorn by them; and it is confidently expected that over 20,000,000 will be shorn by them in that country this year. The following are some of their proved advantages over the ordinary system:—

Estimated at per sheep clip.
(1) Increase in quantity and value of wool (See testimonials).... 11d.
(2) Increased value of pelts owing to total absence of cuts..... 1
(3) Saving of 1 per cent. usual allowance for deaths resulting from cuts and sores 2½
(4) Saving of labor and time, as the work can be performed in half the time usually occupied with the old style of shearing.... 1½
Total per clip per sheep..... 16d.
(5) Total absence of suffering to the sheep.

These economies add enormously to the income of the Australian wool-growers, and are applicable relatively to sheep-farmers everywhere.

The Wolseley machines may be seen in actual work at the Agricultural Rural Exhibition at Palermo.

For further particulars apply to the agents, Messrs. Agar, Cross & Co., Calle Defensa 124 & 136, Buenos Ayres where certificates and testimonials can be seen.

THE TRUE-FIT TRUSS
Possess the following manifest advantages, and are highly recommended by all who use them:
They are most comfortable and easy to wear.
They are totally imperceptible when on.
They have no cumbrous fastenings, and retain their position in any posture.
They are very durable and will last for years.
They may be used in the bath, being impervious to moisture, and are always clean.

"Curative Paste"
BUCHANAN.
Colonia (B. O.), May 1890
Gentlemen—
Having recently accepted the Agency for the "Sale of Curative Paste" for this Republic, I have great pleasure in introducing this dip to your notice.
This dip has been found unrivalled by some of the largest Estancieros that have used it for some time past, and this great success has induced the manufacturer to bring it more prominently before the sheep-farming Republic.
As a cure of Scab it is the most effective, and as a preventive the most permanent that has ever been offered to the public. Scab CANNOT EXIST where "CURATIVE PASTE" is used.
As an economiser of time, labour and expense, it is decidedly the best; curings are less frequent, the necessity of extra men is avoided and consequently less expense incurred.
But in addition to this, we claim and can prove that sheep cured with this dip yield a vastly superior quality and greater quantity of wool than those cured with other dips.
These are advantages that a sheep-farmer cannot, and will not, overlook if he wishes to manage his animals profitably.
Try a sample and satisfy yourselves that in recommending "Curative Paste" to be the most effective, the safest and cheapest dip existing we do but claim that which is admitted by all who use it. (Vide testimonial.
Yours truly
ARTHUR JAS. KELLY.

Long-wool Lincoln Sheep.
The remaining portion of the Ulceby Grange flock of pure-bred Lincoln sheep, consisting of 80 Shearling Rams and 200 Splendid Shearing Ewes will be sold by auction on the premises September 7th next. Sheep have been largely imported from this flock for many years to South America, and given great satisfaction. Large numbers were bought at the last autumn sale by American buyers. Every accommodation will be given to foreign buyers. Ulceby is 30 miles from Lincoln, and 10 from Hull and Grimsby. Address, Jno. Turner, The Grange Ulceby, Lincolnshire, England. 362 mrr18xp
